ABOUT ME

Class 1993, I've always been an avid writer: when I was 5 I wrote a made-up sequel of the Lion King, at 11 I wrote a couple of novels and a short screenplay (and then forced my friends to act in the short film related - now hidden somewhere safe lol) and at 20 I started my beauty blog. Since the first pink lipgloss stolen from my mom's makeup bag, I knew makeup would have been the one I'd invest my savings for... but not my studies! In fact, I have a degree in a completely different field, Political Science, and I'm currently attending a master in International Relations and European Studies.

ABOUT MY BLOG | www.caterinasosso.com

I started "Caterina Sosso | lifestyle, beauty, thoughts" during my first year of University, when I had just discovered Zoella and the beauty blogging world. Excited to give it a go myself I've started posting reviews, sharing tips and basically writing about everything and anything that popped into my head but it has gradually turned more into a beauty, fashion and interior blog as I grow.

Since 2013 the blog has achieved many milestones and I had the chance to work on projects with big companies, such as L'Oréal Paris, Garnier and Maybelline New York.

In March 2017, I re-launched caterinasosso.com: new design, two languages, better quality content. Discover why here.
